‹ ──────────────── ›

ℹ️ CodeCrafters runs tests when you do a git push. Your first push should have streamed back a `Test failed` error — that's expected. Once you implement this stage, you'll pass the test!

Check the How to pass this stage section below for instructions on how to pass this stage.

VERY EASY

In this stage, you'll implement one of SQLite's dot-commands: `.dbinfo`. This command prints metadata about a SQLite database file.

The command is executed like this:

$ sqlite3 sample.db .dbinfo

It prints output in this format:

database page size:  4096
write format:        1
read format:         1

...

number of tables:    5
schema size:         330
data version:        1
```
